TETON VALLEY FOUNDATION WELCOMES NEW EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Geordie Gillett, President of the Teton Valley Foundation Board of Directors, is pleased to introduce Sara Ashenburg, the new Executive Director of the Foundation.

Sara brings to the organization over ten years of experience in nonprofit management, event planning and environmental education and outreach. Most recently, Sara directed the Duke Environmental Leadership Program in Durham, North Carolina. Prior to Duke, she worked for the Environmental Programs Department at Home Depot and the North Carolina Wildlife Federation.

Sara received a B.A. and B.S. in Botany from Miami University in Ohio and a Master of Environmental Management and certificate in nonprofit management from Duke. She served on the board of directors for Environmental Educators of North Carolina for six years, including a 3-year presidential term, and is currently volunteering for the Idaho and Wyoming affiliates of the North American Association of Environmental Education.

“I’m very much looking forward to contributing to local community-building efforts – both continuing the Music on Main concerts and developing other programs that will benefit our unique and vibrant community. I’m thrilled to be part of TVF and have the opportunity to meet and work with such great people and share ideas about how we can best give back to Teton Valley,” said Ashenburg.

The Teton Valley Foundation's mission is to plan, organize and implement cultural, educational and recreational events for the benefit of the community. We plan to host several world-class, multi-day events each year to promote, market and enhance the unique nature of the Valley and increase economic activity in the community placing specific emphasis on our downtowns.
